Killed While Digging Grave
SEYMOUR, Mo. (U.P.)—Clarence Hargus, 21, was digging a grave in the local cemetery here when lightning struck him. He died a short time later.

Hailstones Killed Sheep
CIRCLE, Mont. (U.P.)—Hailstones the size of hen's eggs pounded this district recently. More than 100 sheep, scores of chickens and some pigs were killed by the stones, which pierced their skulls like rifle bullets.

Plum Seed Fatal
SAN DIEGO, Cal. (U.P.)—A plum seed killed William E. Hansen, 60, it became lodged in his throat, choking him to death before a physician could be summoned.

Creel Sentiment Rapidly Growing

Constantly growing strength of George Creel in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor is reported from every section of the state.

GEORGE CREEL
Candidate for Governor on Democratic Ticket

San Diego, Imperial and Riverside counties started the swing of Democratic forces from other camps to the Creel banner by passing resolutions calling upon other candidates to withdraw and get solidly behind Creel.

Still another evidence of the swing to Creel came from Will H. Anderson, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association, president of the Municipal Water and Power Defense League, civic worker and Democratic leader for many years, who announced withdrawal of his name as a sponsor for Justus Wardell and his active entrance in the campaign for Creel. Anderson cited the need of all Democrats to unite behind the one man who threatened invasion, and called Creel the best qualified man for the task.

BOY SCOUT OUTING TURNS TO TRAGEDY IN MOUNTAIN WILDS

Two Lads Are Injured In Fall From Steep Trail; Vincent Slocum of Redondo Beach Still Missing After More Than 48 Hours of Search LATE BULLETIN—The body of Vincent Slocum was found this morning, floating on the surface of the lake at Big Tujunga dam. Indications are that Slocum in the darkness of Monday night, fell over a cliff into the water.

Fred Lippert, age 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lippert of the Standard Oil lease in the west part of Torrance, is at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital with a broken leg as a result of a fall from a cliff in the Big Tujunga canyon Monday. He is resting well at present and is expected to recover shortly from his trying experience.

Newark L. Burton Gardena Attorney In Justice Race

Former U. S. Commissioner and Probate Judge in Alaska

torney Burton has resided in Gardena for the past 13 years, and prior to that time he lived in Alaska for a number of years and was actively engaged in the law business of that territory. He was offered the appointment of United States district attorney under the Wilson administration, but declined the honor, and was later appointed United States commissioner and probate judge of the first judicial division of Alaska with headquarters at Juneau. At present, Mr. Burton is serving as city attorney of Gardena, and is elected justice of the peace of the newly created Inglewood township, he promises justice for all; privileges to none.

Colden to Talk At Roosevelt-Sinclair Meeting, August 22

Sinclair's Epic plan will be presented by Dr. George Ashley, minister of the Hollywood Unitarian church, at a meeting to be held at the San Pedro high school at 8 o'clock, Wednesday night, August 22, and at the same meeting, Congressman Charles J. Colden has been asked to explain Roosevelt and the New Deal as he learned it as a member of the Seventy-third Congress.

According to members of the Busy Bee Epic Club, who are sponsors of the meeting, this discussion will give voters an opportunity to compare state and national policies. The public is invited to attend.

Edward Ketton, age 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ketton, 321 Diamond street, Redondo Beach, is in the Glendale hospital suffering from a fractured skull, and Vincent Slocum, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Slocum, 523 South Helberta avenue, Redondo Beach, has been missing for more than 48 hours, in spite of the valiant efforts of searchers who have combed the mountain wilds in the vicinity of Big Tujunga dam. The fourth member of the party of Boy Scouts, Troop No. 275, of Redondo Beach, John H. Gilmer, also 14, who was with Lippert when he fell from a steep and narrow trail, was responsible for the early rescue of his chum when he returned to the camp of a forest ranger and obtained help.

The four boys, all experienced Scouts, had been taken to the mountains over the week-end by their assistant scoutmaster, Herbert Otto, 418 South Elena street, Redondo Beach.

According to one report, the boys, who were going on a fishing trip to the dam, became separated. Fred Lippert, who was found first, was taken to the hospital. Lippert's rescue was effected by means of a boat, which was taken up the stream in White Oak canyon, and he was brought by Torrance Memorial hospital, where he is still in a serious condition, but is expected to recover. Ketton's body was found about three-quarters of a mile further up the canyon and his rescue also had to be effected by boat.

Plans were made yesterday to drag the lake at Big Tujunga dam in the belief that Slocum may have fallen into the water. Tracks were said to have been found leading to the lake but none leading away from it.

Iron Ore Company Moves to Torrance

Offices of the International Development Company were moved from Los Angeles to the National Bank Building in Torrance this week. The company was founded by the late Jared Sidney Torrance and has extensive iron ore interests in Lower California. Officers of the company are W. W. Orcutt, president, who is also vice president of the Union Oil Company; L. J. Webb, vice president, and Torrance C. Welch, secretary and attorney.

Drought Relief Loans Available To Poultrymen

Cash for Purchase of Supplies May be Obtained from SERA

Poultrymen, beekeepers, and farmers in the county are receiving drought relief loans from the Los Angeles SERA headquarters, 741 South Flower street, it was announced by SERA officials.

Those asking for aid have received the loans within five to 10 days from the time applications are made, according to C. Newton Graves, SERA official in charge of the emergency crop loan section of the Farm Credit Administration office.

This was made possible through the experience gained by the administration in relieving distress in more seriously affected drought areas, the official explained.

Poultrymen have been hit the hardest by the drought in this county, according to the official. Since the opening of the feed loan office here, 33 poultrymen borrowed $1961, enough to sustain approximately 40,000 members of the feathered tribe for one month. Eight dairymen received an advance for the month of $1734.

Loans to poultry and dairymen are advanced on a monthly basis to cover the period of need estimated by the FCA to be five months, it was explained.

Beekeepers borrowed 21,800 pounds of sugar to furnish approximately 13,000,000 bees with syrup to fill the place of nectar from blossoms blighted by the drought in the county.

This supply covers a three-week period, according to the official.

A decided increase in applications is expected as fall pastures fade and food reserves are exhausted. Many distressed poultry and dairymen who were unable to furnish non-disturbance agreements from mortgage and lienholders are also expected to make applications for the loans.

"At first belief seemed to prevail among the holders of mortgages that their rights would go unprotected through granting the non-disturbance agreements required under FCA rulings on drought loans," C. Newton Graves said today. "However, this misunderstanding has been largely overcome. Borrowers showing bad faith can not hide behind the non-disturbance agreement."

Where borrowers show bad faith, loan advances may be stopped, criminal prosecution is possible, and the status of the mortgage-holder is protected, the official said.

Security for the feed loans consists of the borrower's promissory note payable with 5% per cent interest at maturity, November 1, 1935, according to the official.

GAS TO COOK A FAMILY MEAL COSTS LESS THAN THE KITTEN'S DISH OF MILK

The cost of natural gas to cook a meal for the average family, here in Southern California, is less than one cent. It is hard to realize that gas is so inexpensive, because your monthly gas bill is made up of an astonishingly large number of individual usages.

For instance, if you have an automatic water heater its convenience is so great that an average family will use large or small amounts of hot water several thousand times a month. Each time the amount of gas consumed is so small, and the cost is so low, that it takes more than a hundred average usages to add up to a nickel a day.

Automatic water heating with natural gas is three times as economical as other modern automatic methods. That is an important reason why you should insist on modern natural gas equipment—and why you need not deny yourself the many conveniences it affords.
